

Trade Area Is Key To Civic Progress

Vernon Thompson
Speaks To Point
At C. C. Banquet

Graves Presides Over Interesting Program At Barlow Last Night

NEW BOARD CHOSEN

Little Rock Speaker and Annual Report Hold Attention

Hope's civic enterprise was weighed in the balance last night and found to be one of the most important factors in the upbuilding of Southwest Arkansas, in an address by Vernon L. Thompson at the annual banquet meeting of Hope Chamber of Commerce in Hotel Barlow.

Approximately 100 persons heard the vice-president of the Home Life Insurance company, of Little Rock, deliver a plain, forceful statement of the position which community work holds in the scheme of industrial and commercial things.

"Mathematics is an exact science," he said. "The terms of chemistry are absolute. But when we come to community work we have to do with the uncertain science of civic efficiency. I mean by that, just what does a man get in return for say $100 he invests in Hope Chamber of Commerce? How much of it eventually comes back to his own cash registers?"

"To determine this, America needs to create a profession of community accounting."

"For we are told that the Kraft-Phenix cheese factory, which your Chamber of Commerce brought here, is putting back into the hands of Hempstead county farmers about $4,000 a month. That is an interesting and significant fact."

What Makes Business
"The things which determine the success and size of community businesses are: Location of the individual stores; an agreeable personnel, aggressive salesmanship; and finally, the purchasing power of the trade territory. This last named is the all-determining issue confronting community workers. Is your Chamber of Commerce working to increase the purchasing power of Hope's trade territory?"

"It is—and I want to say right here that the wisdom of Hope is very sound, building on a foundation already laid, developing side-lines of agriculture which it knows, instead of involving itself in brand new industries which it doesn't know."

Guests at the banquet, who spoke briefly, were as follows: C. K. Bothwell, general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, and the following other Missouri Pacific men from the Little Rock office: Bert Haley, W. J. McDonald, J. B. Davidson and Mr. Hodson. W. H. Buckley, of Shreveport, superintendent of the Arkansas Natural Gas company, made an interesting short speech on new industries established in this section.

O. A. Graves, chairman of the chamber executive committee, who presided as toastmaster, introduced John P. Cox, who told some of the early history of the little chamber.

Early History
"It was founded ten years ago, at a meeting held in the New Grand theatre," he said. "W. Y. Foster, Sr., was the first president and W. H. Toney was the first secretary. It was this early group that laid the original plans for building our present city hall, and for establishing the State Experiment Farm near here."

Mr. Graves recognized Roy Anderson, president of the chamber, who had expected to be out of the city on business, seated at the far end of the banquet room and called on him for a speech. In a brief address Mr. Anderson called further attention to the annual report of Secretary-Manager W. Homer Pigg and stated what he believed to be two leading problems confronting the Chamber of Commerce in 1929. "We ought by all means to construct a first-class airport here," he said. "We have what is said to be one of the best natural landing fields in the state, but it is unimproved, and not even under lease. There is also the immediate necessity of getting all-weather road connections between Hope and Camden, through Rosston, and Hope and Bleavins. These are things which the Chamber of Commerce will probably concern itself with in 1930."

George W. Robinson spoke on the membership campaign for the new year. "One thing we attempted last year we will probably not repeat this year," he said, "and that is the coming of the Chamber of Commerce and Watermelon Festival drives. Each should stand on its own merits. For it is my opinion that combining the two hurts the Chamber without helping the Festival."

A musical program, furnished by Miss Iva Hip, with several solos and the Hope Quartet, in a series of numbers, furnished an excellent meal.

The New Board

Dr. W. R. Anderson, of the nomi-

Neighbors Crib Corn So
Boy Can Go To School

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Neighbors gathered 22 acres of corn here for Mrs. George Burgess, a widow, rather than see her son James, a sophomore in high school, quit his studies to husk the corn.

Sixty-four persons gathered at her farm at 6:30 a. m. and by 2 p. m. the corn was cribbed. When the corn was husked the neighbors brought baskets a dinner was served and it was made a picnic occasion.

The new board will meet at a later date and select the president and vice-presidents.

The annual report of Secretary Pigg read to the meeting last night, was in part as follows:

Our Budget
We have been increasingly hampered in our activities due to an inadequate budget upon which to operate. The fair committee has defrayed approximately one-fourth of the operating expenses of the chamber of commerce during the past two or three years. Without this cooperation, our budget would not have been sufficient for defraying the expenses of our organization. We need a budget for advertising and publicity, for industrial development, for agricultural development and for many other purposes other than mere operating expenses of our organization. With the hearty cooperation of everyone interested in the development of our city, we should experience no difficulty in increasing our budget this year.

Publicity

Hope has probably received more favorable publicity the past year than any other city in Arkansas. We have been successful in securing the publication of publicity in more than 1000 newspapers throughout the United States. We have had several watermelon stories distributed through the various news agencies and reaching practically every section of the United States. Our new municipal building and our municipal power plant have been subjects of other news stories handled by the various news agencies and through which we have received much favorable publicity. We have distributed thousands of publicity leaflets during the year and have never missed an opportunity to give our city all the publicity possible.

Streets and Highways
We have at every opportunity encouraged and urged the improvement of our streets and have cooperated in the various movements having for their purpose the paving of our city streets. The past year we have witnessed the completing of approximately one hundred blocks of paving in our residential section which now gives Hope between twelve and fifteen miles of paved streets.

Our Highway Committee has been active in bringing to the attention of the State Highway Department the needs of this section in the way of improved roads. We have cooperated with the highway engineers in securing right-of-ways for the roads now under construction. Three highways of vital importance to Hope were completed the past year and the Hope-Fulton highway is now under construction. The completion of these roads means the extension of our trade territory and ultimately bringing more business to our city.

Trade Extension
Our trade extension committee has directed its efforts largely towards encouraging a more loyal support of all local industries and business institutions. We have at every opportunity urged upon our citizens the importance of cultivating the "buy at home" habit and the fact that, if we do not support the industries and other business institutions already established in our midst we cannot expect to induce other industries to locate in our city.

Early in the year plans were formulated for a Loyalty Banquet to be held quarterly throughout the year. These banquets which are attended by members of the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce, have grown in interest and have been the means of impressing upon our citizens the importance of Loyalty to home institutions.

Our trade extension committee has also sponsored a number of good-will tours to various parts of our trade territory which we believe have been

(Continued on page three)

Chosen Head of Episcopalians

Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, bishop of Chicago, is the new presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, having been chosen at Washington. He will serve the remainder of the term of the late Bishop John Gardner Murray of Maryland.

Pastor - Officer
Under Indictment

Charged With Accepting Bribes From Many Bootleggers.

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Charges of bribery against a federal prohibition agent who also is pastor of a Baptist church here were investigated today by Federal Grand Jury on instructions of Judge Charles I. Dawson, but the jury adjourned without making a report.

The investigation of the agent, Rev. Allie W. Leigh, followed the filing of three affidavits charging he accepted bribes from bootleggers.

Aimee's Former Attorney Sues

Asks Trifling Sum of $324,500 Which Says
She Hasn't Paid.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A suit by Cromwell Ormsby, Los Angeles attorney, against Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, charging breach of contract and failure to pay for legal services, was on file here today. The attorney asks $324,500 from Mrs. McPherson.

Ormsby, who recently was dismissed as personal attorney for Mrs. McPherson, filed the suit yesterday, asserting that he and the evangelist had entered into a contract by which he was to manage the evangelist in the production of a talking motion picture.

He charged that the agreement was cancelled by Mrs. McPherson without cause, and on this ground asked $250,000 as an estimated one-third of the anticipated profits.

Ormsby also asserted that he was to have helped the evangelist in the management of her proposed 32-day trip to the Holy Land under a similar division of profits, which he estimated would have netted him $70,000. This contract, he alleged, also was rescinded on November 9.

A bill of $3,500 for legal services and demand for the return of $1,000 he said he advanced Mrs. McPherson made up the balance of the amount asked.

George Aker, who supplanted Ormsby as the evangelist's counsel, described the demands as "absurd."

Turkey Grower
Puts Sun To Work

Grows Birds In Tents and Treats Them To Ultra-Violet Rays.

SWINK, Colo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Some easterners say turkey, the southerner says turkey and the westerner calls it tur-r-ky.

But it's the same bird all over the country when it's turned out brown on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

With those festive occasions near, turkey growers of the United States are preparing the demand.

Glen Osborn, chief turkey grower of the Arkansas valley, has borrowed some hints from science to produce his share of holiday birds.

He grows his turkeys in tents and treats them to ultra-violet rays.

Osborn exposes the eggs to full sunlight after the tenth day of incubation. He says this exposure to ultra-violet rays of the sun produces more hardy poults.

The tents give the poults a maximum of ventilation, sunshine and protection from the weather, and are less expensive than permanent wooden structures. The tent houses have board floors, and are mounted on skids so they can be moved.

On eight acres Osborn raised 2,200 turkeys this year. When October 1 came he placed the birds on alfalfa pasture, expecting to increase a ton turkey's weight from 19 to 28 pounds by Thanksgiving.

Nation Pays Last
Tribute To Late
Secretary of War

Foreign Nations Join In Ceremony As Funeral Held

FLAGS AT HALF MAST

President Hoover and High Officials Attend
Last Rites

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Flags at half-staff throughout the land today signified the cessation of governmental affairs as President Hoover and other officials of both American and foreign governments assembled in the historic East Room of the White House and paid final tribute at the funeral of James W. Good, late Secretary of War.

The funeral service of the Presbyterian church was conducted with simple dignity. Around the room, in which many epochal events of American history have taken place, floral tributes from personal friends, foreign governments and many organizations were banked high.

President and Wife Enter
Before the services started and any one had arrived, the President and Mrs. Hoover entered the room and remained for a time in personal tribute. The President for some time stood at the side of the casket and gazed into the face of his late friend and official adviser. Mrs. Hoover remained standing a few feet distant.

Mrs. Good, her two sons and other members of the immediate family set apart in the Green room and heard the services from there. The President and Mrs. Hoover, vice-President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Dolly Gann, Chief Justice and Mrs. Taft, Speaker Longworth and Mr. Good's fellow cabinet members sat immediately in front of the casket.

Black Rock Man Is Masonic Head

Dr. Warren Named As Grand Master At Little Rock Meeting

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Dr. G. A. Warren, of Black Rock, was named Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M., of Arkansas, and Mrs. Ann C. Dial, of McGehee, Grand Worthy Matron of the O. E. S. of the state, at separate state sessions of the two organizations here today.

Other officers elected by the Masons were: A. J. Russell, Little Rock, D. G. M.; C. E. Smith, Little Rock, G. S. W.; Claude A. Randall, Murfreesboro, G. J. W.; Finis E. Miller, Rogers, G. S. D.; W. A. Thomas, El Dorado, G. J. D.; Francis Brewer, Texarkana, re-elected Grand Chaplain; A. J. Snodgrass, Little Rock, re-elected Grand Tyler; Conrad, Glover, Sheridan, Grand Orator; Baker Clark, Fayetteville, Grand Lecturer and Fay Hempstead, Little Rock, Grand Secretary.

Fame of Chemist
Sprang From Awe

Editors Refused To Publish His Discovery In Science.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Incidents which inspire youth to scientific success often are revealed only years afterward.

Such an incident now comes to light in the career of Prof. H. Shipley Fry, head of the department of chemistry, University of Cincinnati.

In student days he was filled with admiration akin to awe by the ability of his old chemistry professor to expound the intricate formulae of benzene, a cyclic structure of six carbon atoms each united to a hydrogen atom.

He had owned up that perhaps the tinkle of delicate test tubes and the singing of boiling liquid helped stir his imagination. At any rate, he formulated the ambition of developing a new benzene formula.

Years ago he conceived the first electronic formula which afforded theoretical explanation of benzene's chemical constitution and properties. It was so radical that American scientific editors once refused to publish it.

But prosaic humble benzene spread into all sorts of daily application, becoming the most extensively used of the 200,000 known carbon compounds. The young scientist's formula served more and more to make clear formerly unexplained reactions.

Now at last comes the reward of the dream, for several books on chemistry by British authorities have paid Fry the tribute of listing his formula first.

Two Hanged In Indiana
Followed Devil's Advice

COLUMBUS, Ind., Nov. 20.—The devil was blamed in the indictments which resulted in Bartholomew county's only two executions, long forgotten records at the clerk's office here have revealed.

For "not having the fear of God before his eyes but being moved by instigation of the devil" John Jones was hanged. He had knifed John Ray when the latter called him a liar.

The devil got blamed again for the crime of Kader Herring, who shot John Comer in a quarrel over a cow-bell. Both were hanged on the same day in 1823.

Farmer's Hay Invention
Chops, Blows and Loads

CALPATRIA, Cal., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Hay-making has been put on a mechanical basis with a home-made device of Ira D. Aten, Jr.

It is a portable hay chopper, blower and loading machine which he uses on his 1,240 acres of land.

The hay is cut, raked into windrows, cured, elevated by a loader to the chopper and blown into large wagons traveling alongside. It is hauled to feed racks where the hay is again blown into weather resistant stacks.

Aten believes that by working a separator in conjunction with a dust collector, it will be possible to suck the leaf and blossom meal immediately.

Little Rock Man
Dental President

Named As Head of Tri-State Body At Memphis Meeting

MEMPHIS, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Dr. J. C. Hall, of Little Rock, was elected president of the Tri-State Dental Clinic at its tenth annual post graduate meeting here today.

D. W. C. Ryan, of Memphis, was elected vice president for Tennessee, D. W. E. Hutchinson, Little Rock vice president for Arkansas, and Dr. C. A. Moore, of Lexington, as vice president for Mississippi.

Begin Search for
New Hospital Site

Process of Elimination To Be Used In Making Selection.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 20.—Selection of the site for a new state hospital for nervous diseases is going to be made by the state construction commission through a process of elimination and only after each site offered has been thoroughly inspected by competent surveyors, it was said by Justin Matthews, member of the construction commission, prior to the meeting of the commission today.

Matthews said that he expects at least 20 sites to be submitted to the commission, each claimed to meet all requirements of the law with reference to railroads and highway facilities, upland, bottom land, water, etc. When these tracts are listed, it will then become the task of the construction commission to select the one most desirable for the purpose.

Highway Body To Award Contracts

Open 126 Bids for Road
and Bridge Projects
In State

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—One hundred and twenty-six bids were received today by the State Highway Commission on 3 roads and bridge projects of the state's road system, involving an approximate expenditure of $983,000. The commission announced it would designate the successful bidders at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The largest project on which bids were received was that of the concrete approaches to the Augusta bridge across the White river to cost approximately $235,000. The second largest was 12 miles of concrete paving on the Little Rock-Pine Bluff road, in Jefferson and Grant counties, at an estimated cost of $238,000.

Oklahoman Likely To Succeed Good

Pat Hurley Talked for Post Vacant Thru War
Secretary's Death.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Several new names entered today into the conjecture as to who will be named to the vacant post of secretary of war, but in some official circles the talk still centered on Patrick J. Hurley of Oklahoma, now acting secretary.

Some talk was heard that Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, republican leader in the House and high in republican party councils during the last campaign, might be tendered the post.

Another name around which some wholly unofficial speculation revolved was that of Walter H. Newton, now administrative assistant to the president.

LaGuardia Urges
Reporters Freed

Congressman Says Reporters Were Only Doing Duty By Paper.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—After a call upon the three Washington newspaper reporters held at the District of Columbia jail for contempt of court, Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, proposed yesterday that the president should pardon the trio.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

Get Grandpa's Money? Maybe!

When John Quincy Murray left bequests of $4000 to his three grandchildren, he wasn't taking any chances they would dissipate the money in foolish fads of the modern jazz age. If they obtain the income, the two granddaughters, Mrs. Alice Murray Lapossa, left, and Jean Murray, right above, must abstain from lipstick, face paint, dancing, jewelry or short skirts. And Dr. Malcolm John Murray, right below, the third beneficiary, must never wear facial adornment described as a "charlie Chaplin mustache," nor fritter away his time in motion picture shows. Otherwise, the money goes to three superannuated ministers of the Free Methodist Church.

Methodists Meet
In Annual Session
At Prescott Today

Election of Delegates To General Conference Is High Point

BISHOP BOAZ HEADS

Announcement of Assignment of Pastors Be Made Sunday

PRESCOTT, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The 70th annual meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, opened here today, with election of delegates to the forthcoming quadrennial general conference at Dallas in May as one of the most important business matters coming before it.

Bishop H. A. Boaz, of Little Rock, is the presiding officer of the conference, sessions of which are being held in the new Methodist church, the structure being completed within the past year.

The meeting will continue through Sunday night, with Bishop Boaz announcing the assignments for the coming year at the last session.

10 Delegates to Be Named
Personnel of delegates to the Dallas general conference is a matter of general interest, since the conference is entitled to ten seats in that body five lay and five clerical, all of whom will have votes on enactment of any legislation and in the election of Bishops and the transaction of other church matters. Bishop Boaz will close a quadrennium of service as general superintendent of Arkansas Methodists at the Dallas conference.

Announcement of assignment of pastors to churches for the ensuing year will not be made public until the final session here.

Little Rock Post
Largest In World

Arkansas Department
Leads In Membership Quota.

M. M. Eberts, post No. 1 of Little Rock is the largest American Legion post in the world, and the Arkansas department is leading all other states in percentage of 1930 membership quota attained up to Monday night.

This information was contained in a telegram received yesterday at Legion headquarters in Little Rock from State Commander R. L. Gordon and State Adjutant Hugh W. Wicker, who are at national head quarters in Indianapolis attending the annual conference of commanders and adjutants.

A national membership campaign ended Monday night, and results were tabulated by the National Executive Committee and National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer yesterday.

Arkansas had 5,800 paid up members, or a percentage of 79.86, compared with 20,655 members, or a percentage of 72.78 for Wisconsin.

The Arkansas department will be awarded a silver trophy, given by a past national commander, for winning the percentage contest.

National Commander Bodenhamer congratulated Commander Gordon at a public ceremony and sent a message of appreciation to Legionnaires in Arkansas.

(Continued on page six)

Liner Feels Full Force of Tremor

Officers of Ship At Loss
To Understand What Had Happened

Facing Prison Term, Suicides

Youth, Arrested for Prohi-
Violation, Shoots
Self

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Choosing death in preference to a possible term in the penitentiary for violation of the prohibition laws, Joe Lantrip, 21 shot and killed himself a few yards from his home here today.

Lantrip was recently arrested on a liquor charge and yesterday was held under bond to await the action of the grand jury. Members of the family recalled after the death that he had told them he "would never go to the penitentiary."

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Members of the Matson family are to be questioned this afternoon for any motive they may be able to adduce for the slaying.

They were simply carrying out their duties in telling the simple truth about prohibition, La Guardia said, adding that while they were in jail, bootleggers were still at liberty and doing business "with the full knowledge of the court and the authorities."

Hope Star

Every Afternoon Except Sunday

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

BY STAR PUBLISHING COMPANY
217 South Main Street
Hope, Arkansas

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to circulate advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col.

Subscription Rates

(Always Payable in Advance)

By city carrier, per month $.50; six months $2.75; one year $5.00.
By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and LaFayette counties, $3.00 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches received to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

The Star's Platform

City

Apply the revenues of the municipal power plant to develop the industrial and social resources of Hope.

More city pavement in 1929, and improved sanitary conditions to the alleys and business back-yards.

Support the Chamber of Commerce.

County

A county highway program providing for the construction of a minimum amount of all-weather road each year, to gradually reduce the dirt road mileage.

Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural program which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county's greatest industry.

Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is as practical in the country as it is in town.

State

Continued progress on the state highway program.

Fearless tax reform, and a more efficient government through budget system of expenditures.

Free Arkansas from the cattle tick.

Hanged By Technicalities

THE complexities and tangles of our legal machinery sometimes make the ordinary man highly impatient. It is not pleasant to see a criminal putting off his punishment for years, or even escaping it altogether, by means of delays and re-trials obtained through legal technicalities.

Once in a great while, however, all of this works against the prisoner and not for him.

The state of Texas the other day electrocuted a man who would today be a free man if he had not tried a little too hard to make legal technicalities save him from prison.

He was arrested a number of years ago on a charge of murder. Brought to trial, he was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to four years in the state prison.

Through his lawyer, he fought against this sentence. In the course of time he won a new trial. Brought into court a second time, he was again convicted—but this time he was convicted of murder in the second degree, and drew a life sentence in prison.

Once again he fought for a new trial, and once again he was successful. A third time he went to court to stand trial—and, this time, he was convicted of first degree murder. The judge sentenced him to the electric chair, and a few days ago he was put to death.

If he had left his first sentence stand he would be walking the streets a free man, his prison term completed. But he fought a little bit too hard. He couldn't let well enough alone—or, perhaps, he didn't recognize well enough when he saw it.

Many a man, sentenced to death, has eventually escaped through a long-drawn court fight. Here was one case where it worked the other way.

Farms and Farm Homes.

THE Quorum Courts of the 75 Arkansas counties, at their recent sessions, made appropriations for a total of 70 farm demonstration and 54 home demonstration agents. This action marks a gain—for it is a gain and not merely an increase—of four in the numbers of both farm and home agents over last year.

Moreover, another county, Sebastian, which has not yet acted on this matter, is expected to renew the appropriations made for the purpose last year. What Hempstead county will decide to do remains to be disclosed at the postponed meeting of its Quorum court on November 25. Nor is this all. Reports come from Howard and St. Francis counties that citizens are making special efforts to have the adverse action of their courts reconsidered at a later date.

These figures leave no room for questioning that Arkansas is thoroughly committed to the farm and home demonstration plan. In an agricultural state like ours, it is doubtful whether any county money, aside from school funds can be more profitably invested than in this practical work to increase the profits of farming and improve the conditions of farm life.—Arkansas Gazette.

Unintelligible.

THE average man has had a terrible time in the last few years trying to figure out the paintings that our modern artists are producing. You know the kind—those weird mixtures of color and lines that mean nothing whatever to one who is not "in" on the painter's secret.

The other day a highly modernistic painting won a $500 prize at the National Academy of Design in New York. But not until it was all over was it discovered that the painting had been hanging wrong side up. Judge, art connoisseurs and visitors had never caught on. The artist himself had to point it out.

As long as a painting carries so unintelligible a message that no one notices if it is hung upside down, the average man cannot be expected to get very much nourishment out of it.

Growing Pains!

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The decline of Bishop Cannon in Virginia and the rise of Norman Thomas the two most significant phases of the recent elections, provide excellent material for political speculation as well as for portents.

Defeat of Bishop Cannon's candidate for governor, who carried the banner for both anti-Smith Democrats and regular Republicans in Virginia, was in effect a sound spanking for one of America's most prominent churchmen who went into politics up to his neck and risked his power and prestige in an attempt to superimpose both definitely upon the state.

The result indicates—for the Democratic majority was record-breaking—that if the Republicans hope to regain any of the southern states in 1932 they will have to get the Democrats to nominate another wet Catholic.

It also indicates that Bishop Cannon will not in the future have any important political influence in his own state. Thanks to his own error in deserting wet-dry and religious battles for a campaign in which neither of those issues was involved, the national prestige which he gained last fall is now fast on the wane, and it is rather to be feared that his voice will be found losing some of its old power in the councils of the dries at Washington.

Norman Thomas, who polled 175,000 votes in the New York majority election, may not live long enough to be elected to anything. But the unprecedented size of his Socialist vote suggests the likelihood that in municipal contests at least the Socialists will before many years become a factor which must be taken into account.

That is not because there is any marked popular trend toward Socialist doctrines, but because in many cities voters are now forced to choose between two more or less corrupt machines, Democratic and Republican.

That kind of a set-up was one of the main factors which piled up the 175,000 Thomas votes in New York. Another factor was the general admiration for Thomas himself. Thomas has run for mayor, governor, and president and in most of these contests he has been the best man among the candidates. The fact that he had the support of such papers as the New York Telegram and the New York World in the New York campaign despite his Socialism was a remarkable tribute.

The possibility of the rise of a strong third party in such graft-ridden cities as Philadelphia and Chicago is also suggested by the fact that two good-sized cities, Reading, Pa. and Milwaukee, Wis., are already getting along well under Socialist rule. Milwaukee has had a Socialist mayor, Daniel Hoan, for 12 years, though he has sometimes had a minority in the city council. Milwaukee seems satisfied with Hoan. The other day the Milwaukee county supervisors voted to accept the state old age pensions law.

The Socialist municipal government of Reading, about two years old, is distinguishing itself by reducing the cost of public improvements and public works and has just built a new $750,000 city hall which it contends would have cost two or three times as much under its predecessors. The outstanding personality there is James H. Maurer, public works commissioner, who ran for vice president on the Socialist ticket with Thomas last year. Maurer was president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and the only Socialist member of the legislature.

Nationally, the growth of the Socialist party will be slow unless the country is let in for hard times. The domestic conditions which drove England into the arms of the Socialists are not likely to be duplicated over here for a long time. The 1930 election, however, is likely to produce a Socialist congressman and possibly two.

BARBS

An author married a rich widow the other day. One good way to achieve success at the writing game.

A Kansas City dentist asks $10,000 damages because his name was left out of the telephone directory. That's going to be a somewhat painful extraction.

How will the United States of Europe ever be able to get along without a Hefflin.

An eastern university announces a course in press agency. But you also can enter the journalism course and learn how to become a city editor and turn 'em down.

A stitch in time makes a little money for the doctor.

A pastor says that women who sing while washing dishes break fewer than those who don't. It all depends upon whether you'd rather hear a broken dish or a cracked voice.

Children's Park In Paris To Form Map of World

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Municipality of Paris has decided to build a park for children, in the form of a flat world to teach them geography. Adults will be kept out of the playground.

In the square, the world will be outlined, with the continents in profile. In Africa will be a sandpile at the place of the Sahara, so that children will associate the sand with the desert. In each of four corners will be fountains and statues depicting native life or fruit of America, Asia, Africa and Oceania, while Europe will be portrayed on the walls of a covered playground for rainy days.

Not every stenographer who knows how to typewrite knows how to make a typewriter typewrite type right.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

My Favorite Bible Passage

Today's Choice

HARRY G. LESLIE

Governor of Indiana

Gov. Leslie
For what doth the Lord require of thee but to deal justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.
(Compiled by the Bible Guild)

Thursday—George H. Moses, U. S. Senator from New Hampshire.

News of Other Days

From the Files of the Star

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Micajah Oglesby spent Sunday with the home folks in this city, returning to Stamps Monday morning.

Harry Moore, Jewel Moore, Paul Bailey and Arthur Porterfield have been hunting ducks down in the Red river bottoms since Monday.

Robert Walcomb, who has been seeing the World's Fair at St. Louis for the past few days, arrived home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. and W. H. Briant have been spending a few days at the Briant farm, eight miles east of this city, in Nevada county.

Hon. James H. McCollum spent Friday and Saturday in Pine Bluff on business.

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Bynum Giles, of Dallas, Texas, will visit relatives in Hope, the guests of Mrs. Jennie Hangan and Miss Dean Hangan this week.

Miss Florence Patching of Texarkana, was the week-end guest of Miss Elizabeth McCollum, at the home of Mrs. R. M. Wilson, on South Main.

Mrs. O. J. Mobley and mother, Mrs. Wodell, of Texarkana, came over for a few days visit the past week, with her daughter, Mrs. Forrest Sharpe.

H. J. Wilson, of Prescott, was in Hope Thursday.

F. L. Daniel was here from Texarkana Monday.

E. R. Williams was here from Arkadelphia Wednesday.

Gen. E. Bailey was down from Washington Wednesday.

J. Y. Dollar was here from Gurdon Thursday Wednesday.

E. L. Kealey, of Emmett, was in the city Thursday, a guest of the Capital hotel.

J. T. Kernodle, of Stamps, was a guest at the Barlow Wednesday.

Alton Bowden, who is with the American Railway Express Co., at Texarkana, spent Thursday at Hope.

N. D. Harrell of Lewisville, was in the city Wednesday.

Hon. Tilman B. Parks, of this city, left yesterday for Austin, Tex., where he goes to assist in representing the state in a murder case in that city, he having been employed to assist in the prosecution by the members of the family of the deceased.

Miss Nann Hays, of Oklaoma, returned to her home yesterday, after a visit in this city, the guest of Mrs. Kline Snyder.

Geo. Hinton Jr., went to Texarkana on business Thursday.

E. Y. Cloud has returned to Hope, after having spent the past two weeks in Colorado visiting relatives. "Doc" has come home to stay, now, and will resume his dental practice in the near future.

Davis Says Quota System Is Faulty

Labor Secretary Would Make Two Changes In Plan.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 19.—The present quota system in that it does not apply to immigrants from most "new world" countries, Secretary of Labor James W. Davis believes.

Discussing possible limitation of immigration from Mexico, in the current issue of Eugenics, organ of the American Eugenics Society, Davis says: "As I view it, the quota system is faulty in two important particulars. First, it does not apply to immigrants who are natives of most new world countries, there being no limit to the number of such natives who may be admitted to the United States provided they meet the physical, mental and moral tests prescribed in the immigration laws. . . . The second defect in the present system is that it does not provide for selecting immigration in accordance with the agricultural and industrial or other needs of the United States."

Building and Loan Money

Good Company. Low rate of interest. Long time and small payments. See me if you want a loan.

W. P. Agee

Today's Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

- Kind of meat
- Slope
- Pronoun
- Turkish title
- Stops
- Instrument used to determine position of the air
- Prong
- Grate
- Staples
- One who acts frivolously
- Concealing
- Public leaf; var.
- Region beyond the Jordan from Jerusalem
- Simpleton
- Hebrew letter
- Small birds
- Head
- Set a high value on
- Moving part
- Metal-bearing rocks
- Unobstructed space
- Reserved
- Bed of straw
- Single thing
- Puff up
- Exist
- Fasten
- Scandinavian
- Castile attack
- Line solution
- DOWN
- Possesses
- Liquor
- Compound
- Reaches across
- Former noun
- Express
- Talky slang
- Blasphemy
- Light variety of color
- Drinking
- Cooks in a pot
- Itaque
- Marble
- Mountain lake
- Muse of lyric poetry
- Make reference
- Abnoda
- Primped
- Breakfast food
- Had being
- Puddle
- Slip
- Assumed character
- Fused character
- Spinning toy
- Black chicken
- Kitchen utensil
- Interrupt
- Understand
- Note of the scale

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

B	R	O	M	I	D	E	S	P	I	G	O	T	S
R	U	M	O	R	E	D	L	A	C	O	N	I	C
A	S	S	E	M	I	E	D	A	N	O	N	E
I	S	I	S	U	T	T	E	R	G	O	L	P
S	I	N	G	R	O	O	V	E	R	A	T
E	A	T	E	R	R	E	E	R	A	N	G	E
S	N	O	R	E	R	S	D	R	E	S	S	E	R
G	A	Y
R	E	M	O	T	E	R	A	D	M	I	R	A	L
A	L	A	T	E	R	N	E	R	O	S	E
T	A	R	A	V	A	G	E	D	A	S	A
A	T	T	S	D	E	M	O	N	B	R	A	D
T	E	D	E	A	R	A	L	E	Y	E
A	R	R	A	N	G	E
T	S	E	T	S	E	S	S	E	A	L	E	R	S

Nashville Gas Lines Being Laid

Contractors Say Work To Sharp Rally Stops Down Be Rushed To Early Completion.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 14.—The work of installing natural gas mains for the Nashville Natural Gas Corporation in this city is progressing rapidly, and it will be only a matter of a few weeks until the lines will be completed and the gas turned on.

A crew of welders is following the big crew of ditch diggers, and one long section of the main has already been set and tested. Other sections are being put into place.

The gas company expects to get the mains from Okay to Nashville in by the time the city lines are ready, and it is expected that service will be supplied to the city between the 15th and 25th of December, the speed in installing the system depending largely upon the weather.

A number of homes in the city have already been plumbed and others are now being plumbed, getting ready for the gas when it is turned on. Many of the people here have not made arrangements for heating and cooking more than their present needs in anticipation of natural gas service.

Exchange Climbs Part Way Back

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A brisk rally in prices which carried some of the leading numbers up $2 to $8 a share net, and a few specialties even higher, took place on the exchange today after a wave of selling had carried issues down $1 to $11 per share in the early hours.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

Final prices were generally at or near the high level for the day, with trading showing a heavy falling in volume.

A great time was had by all—and then some—when the midwest's star cornhuskers met in their annual contest at Platte City, Mo., the other day. Below is Walter Olsen of Knox county, Illinois, who was crowned champion for the second time, showing how he uses a "peg" to husk corn. Above, Charles Tague, winner of third place, is shown doing his stuff in the corn rows beside the wagon.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

The world goes up and the world goes down. And yesterday's sneer and yesterday's frown Can never come over again.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. H. Stuart on West avenue C. A special program is being prepared and a report will be given from the State Meeting in El Dorado.

Mrs. E. S. Greening, Sr., of Monroe, La., is the house guest of her son E. S. Greening, Jr., and Mrs. Greening.

The Junior High P. T. A. will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Junior High school. At this hour the Junior high parents are going to doff the "green" and go back to the good old Junior High days. It is urged that all members be present and get their part of the fun.

Mrs. A. K. Holloway was hostess to the members of the Tuesday Brides Club and a few invited guests yesterday afternoon at her home on S. Pine street. The rooms were brightened with a quantity of lovely two-toned marigolds and a attractively arranged for four tables. Guests other than the club members were Mrs. Chas. C. Newham, Jr., Mrs. James R. Henry, Mrs. Wilson Stuart and Mrs. J. E. Seavey. Table prize went to Mrs. James R. Henry for the guests and to Mrs. Lloyd Spencer for the club. Following the game, the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Frank Trimble served a delicious salad plate.

Mrs. Salome Simms Dunn of Los Angeles, Calif., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Briant for the past few days left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Little Rock.

Mrs. W. R. Williams of Mineral Wells, Texas, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Briant.

The Women of the study class of First Presbyterian church held a most interesting all day session yesterday in the Barrow room of the church. The room was attractively decorated in baskets of evergreens and beautifully colored autumn sprays. Mrs. Dorsey McElroe the Secretary of the Assembly's Home Missions presided and conducted a review of the study book, "The Crowded Way." A most tempting plate lunch was served at 1 o'clock by a committee with Mrs. Roy Johnson as chairman, very ably assisted by Mrs. W. R. Anderson. The dining table was beautifully decorated with vases and bowls of pink and white roses and white crystalline vases. The attendance was very gratifying with about forty ladies in the morning and sixty in the afternoon.

NEW GRAND
Thursday and Friday
"The Tip Off"
with
Bill Cody
Duane Thompson
With an all star cast. A real under world thrill feature. Don't fail to see this one.
Also Pathe News and Comedy
Admission 10c and 25c

TODAY
SONG HITS!
"Am I Blue"
"Birmingham Bertha"
"Let My Dreams Come True"
THURSDAY
SONG HITS!
"Don't It Mean A Thing To You"
"Welcome Home"
ALL NATURAL COLOR—TALKING SINGING—DANCING
Starring
Louise Fazenda
Betty Compson
Sally O'Neil
Arthur Lake
Sam Hardy
WARNER BROS. present
ON WITH THE SHOW
FIRST 100% NATURAL COLOR TALKING ALL SINGING ALL DANCING PICTURE
SAENGER Enough for New York! You Will Say So Too!
Also Paramount's Talking News

Mrs. Martin L. Sigman of Monticello State Regent of the American Daughters of the Revolution was a visitor in the city yesterday and assisted in the organization of a local chapter, subject to the confirmation of the December board in Washington City. The organization now consists of twelve members and about eight others, who will have the necessary data for joining in the near future.

McNAB

A meeting was conducted here last week by Rev. Copeland, of Delight. The teachers and pupils enjoyed a holiday, Monday, Armistice Day. Miss Emma Hamilton spent last week end visiting in the home of Judge and Mrs. John L. Wilson, of Palmers.

Floyd Raley of Washington visited his mother last week. Miss Mollie C. Jones of Hope, is spending the week end with her sister, Mrs. Avis.

The McNab School club meets every two weeks. Some very interesting programs have been planned. Much interest is being shown by both parents and pupils.

Mrs. Ida Raley was called to the bed side of her daughter, Mrs. Manton Cannon at Saratoga.

Sara Weaver, of Fulton, was the guest of Miss Minnie Lou Parker, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mollie Cannon of Saratoga, spent last week end with her Aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Raley.

Miss Lois Hamilton of Emmet, enjoyed the week with her aunt, Miss Emma Hamilton.

Mrs. Will Moss entertained Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock with a surprise birthday dinner. The table was centered with pink rose buds and covers were laid for the following: Miss Mollie C. Jones, of Hope; Mr. Hugh Moss, Miss Emma Hamilton, Mr. Herman Wells, Miss Ina Logan, of Fulton; Mr. Oscar Walters, Fulton; Miss Avis Jones, Mr. C. W. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. K. Spates, Mrs. Tom Logan and Mrs. Will Moss.

HINTON

Little Therald Dan Jones is very ill with diphtheria and is in a hospital at Texarkana.

Married—Allen Smith, of this place to Miss Mary George Cornelius of Ebenezer.

Mr. Lester Cox has moved to Mr. Hinton's place.

Miss Mary Simmons who is attending school at Lewisville spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Simmons, of this place.

Miss Eunice Holmes has returned spent the past month with relatives. Mr. C. D. Middlebrooks, Mr. Berlin Jones and Mr. Henry Black have each purchased a new car.

Mrs. W. E. Simmons and daughter Mary, called on Mrs. Lester Cox while Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wheelington, Clyde Tennie, Irene Rogers and Marie Barr called on Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wheelington Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Melvin Johnson of Spring Hill spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holmes and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Taylor and family.

Miss Irene Camp who is attending school at Hope spent the week end with parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Camp.

Mrs. M. C. Rogers and Mrs. O. N. Barr spent Sunday with Mrs. Lester Cox.

School at this place is progressing nicely.

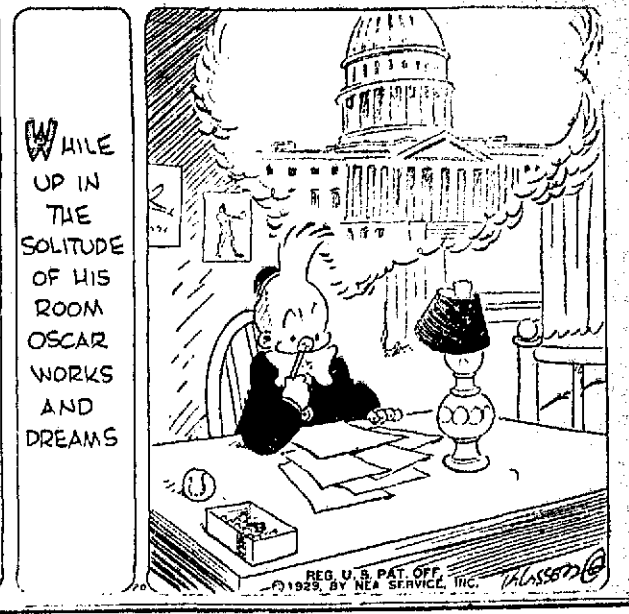

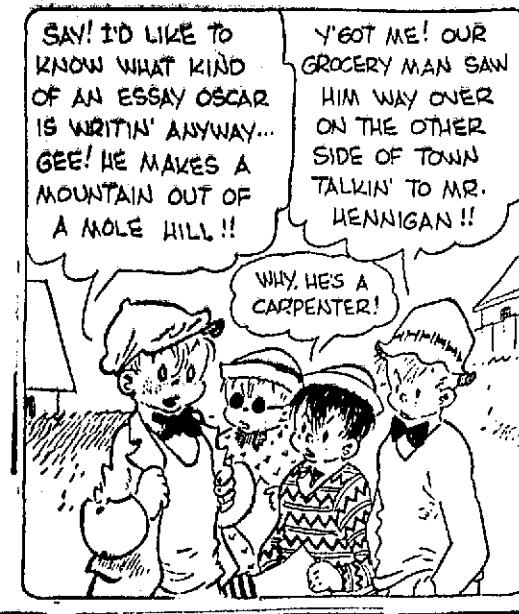

Everyone is invited to attend Sunday School at this place every Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

We hear it noised abroad that the attorneys for Ex-Senator Falk think they got a rotten deal in the courts.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Working and Dreaming!

She's Queen of "Aggies"

Sabetha, Kansas, is noted for being the home of the biggest chick hatcheries in the country—and then there's Edith Bockenstette. Edith's dad runs the chick hatchery, and she is also an authority on chick problems. Consequently, when she was recently elected queen of the "Ag" students at the Kansas State Agricultural College she received the honor primarily because of her agricultural background and then because she was fair to look at. She studies rural commerce and during vacations manages a 52,000 egg incubator at Hiawatha, Kansas.

Trade Area Is Key

(Continued from page one)

the means of calling the attention of the people of the entire territory to the fact that Hope offers them many advantages as a trade center.

Recognizing the fact that aviation is rapidly becoming an important factor in transportation, we have given considerable time and thought to plans for placing our city in a position to reap the benefits of the benefits to be derived from this rapidly developing industry.

Our aviation committee, with the cooperation of the State Highway Department, has put our emergency landing field in first class condition and it is now rated as one of the best fields in the state. It affords ample landing facilities for the accommodation of the largest commercial planes now in use.

The Annual State Air Tour has made Hope a regular stop on its schedule for the past two years, and those participating in the tour have commended us for the splendid work done on our landing field.

Recognizing the fact that Hope is situated in one of the best agricultural sections in the state and in a section that offers many opportunities to those interested in a system of diversified farming, we have devoted considerable time to an agricultural development program.

We have encouraged in every way possible the development of the fruit and truck industry which has become an important factor in the economic life of Hempstead county. In these efforts, we have made satisfactory progress. During the past season the farmers of Hempstead county produced and marketed 450 cars of watermelons; 350 cars of cantaloupes; 75 cars of radishes; 25 cars of tomatoes; 19 cars of potatoes and a large tonnage of string beans, cucumbers, spinach, etc., which was shipped by express. These shipments brought back to the farmers of the county more than $300,000.00.

With the proper encouragement and assistance from the business men of the county, this important industry will continue to develop and, within the next few years, the present production as well as the farmers' income will be doubled.

TONIGHT! Hila Morgan

Well Heated Tent Show
"THE SHEIK"
A feature production, in gorgeous costumes.
SPECIAL VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTION
INDIAN NOVELTY DANCE
with
Miss Hila Morgan Axtell and Chief DeMille
Opposite Prison Depot.

They Came South In Winter Time

Survey Shows Large Number Executives South In Season.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The Illinois Central railroad has completed a survey which indicates about one-third of the business executives of the north take winter vacations in the south. It noted that about 40 per cent of the bankers require rest in the winter, 25 per cent of the architects, 10 per cent of the advertising executives and 20 per cent of the men in the automobile business.

But it is the commission men, insurance men, wholesalers and contractors who feel the urge for warmer climes more than others. Seventy per cent of the commission men, insurance men and wholesalers take winter vacations while 50 per cent of the contractors follow the migratory birds.

Dentists don't find enough let-up in their business. Only 5 per cent can get away.

Chooses Prison for Friendship

Youthful Slayer Wants Long-Term Pals At Marquette.

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Verne Hall, 26-year old bandit, sentenced to life imprisonment for slaying Ulysses Bohle wants to make sure that he will not lose any new friendships he contemplates making in prison.

Before he was sentenced Judge Donald Van Zile asked Hall if he preferred being sent to Marquette prison which being in the northern part of the state is a rather bleak place during the cold winter or to Jackson prison which is reputed to be more lenient toward prisoners. Hall chose Marquette.

"Most of the men sent to Jackson are short timers," Hall explained. "If I make friends there I will lose them as soon as they are released while at Marquette where most of the prisoners are in for long terms, I won't have to hunt new friends every little while."

Bees during the winter months thrive best in temperatures of 40 to 45 degree Fahrenheit.

Correct this sentence: "He told her that he loved her, and wanted none of her money."

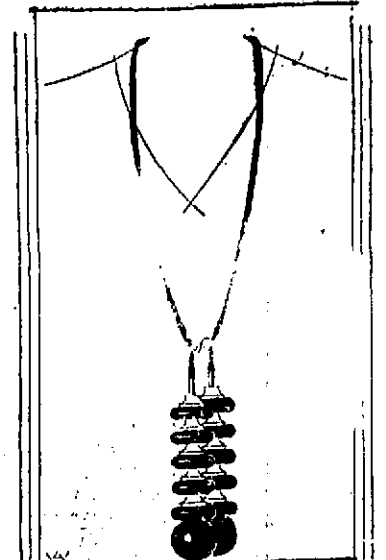

essary steps and already have their airports ready for use. If we expect to be ready to reap the many benefits to be derived from this rapidly developing industry, we should provide an airport with adequate facilities before the close of 1930.

Hope needs a Retail Merchant's Credit Bureau. The experiences of other cities that maintain such organizations show that a credit bureau saves its members several times the cost of maintaining the bureau. Several of our merchants have indicated a desire for such an organization and now is an appropriate time to start the preliminary work.

Hope should be developed into one of the leading convention cities of the state. With our splendid municipal auditorium and other facilities for handling such meetings, our railroad and highway facilities, we should be able to secure and handle successfully several of the smaller conventions during the year.

We should take advantage of the opportunities offered for the further development of our trade territory. With the completion of our system of state highways, we should be able to extend our trade territory several miles and thus enlarge the volume of business transacted in our city. Our program for 1930 should include a plan for some systematic work along this line.

Appropriate celebration of the opening of Fulton bridge.

PENDANTS of black onyx and opaque crystal extending from a black silk cord make one of the interesting new ensembles to be worn with the black costume.

Russian-Chinese Trouble Flares Up

Soviets Bombard Passenger Train, Taking Many Prisoners

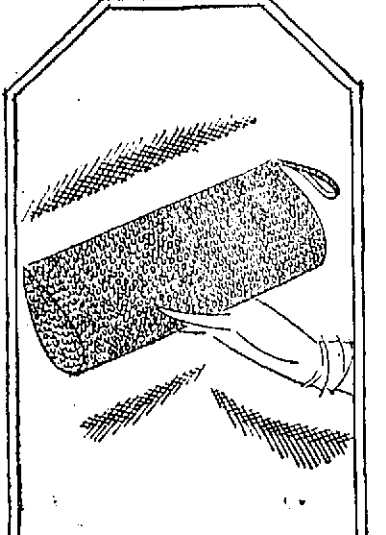

HARBIN, Manchuria, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Airplane and artillery bombardment of Soviet troops at both ends of the Chinese Eastern railway are reported today, and it is believed the Soviet forces are trying to cripple the railway by striking at the source of its fuel supply.

Advices reaching Harbin say that

Dad Beats Son in Love Duel

NEA Memphis Bureau. Sixteen-year-old Mary Peon of Memphis, Tenn., was being courted by James Reiff, 18, when his father, William Reiff, 41, met Mary. Now, after a whirlwind courtship on the part of the father, she is Mrs. William Reiff. They're shown together above.

ONE OF THE newest and most attractive evening bags is made entirely of pearls in the roll type with a slide fastening. It is practical because it will hold more than the average evening bag without bulging.

German Capitalist's Son Secretly Wed

Their was a wedding of distinction, but it was without social or diplomatic pomp. For Dr. Edmund Stinnes, eldest son of the late Hugo Stinnes, fabulously wealthy German industrial magnate, was married secretly in York to pretty Miss Marga von Gaevernitz. She is the daughter of a former president of the German Reichstag. They're pictured together here soon after the ceremony.

considerable damage was inflicted on Daler mines near Manchuli, the mines reputed to be owned by the railway. All work at the mines ceased and the miners fled with their families.

Simultaneously with the bombardment of Daler mines, Soviet planes were reported to have raided the mining area near Suifenho, on the eastern end of the railway, where the Chinese Eastern has been buying coal since its Russian supply was severed.

According to messages, a number of passengers were killed and man taken prisoners when a passenger train was attacked by plane. One bomb scored a direct hit on the dining car while the passenger coaches were sprayed by machine gun fire from Soviet troops.

Be thankful—you have reason enough whether you have sense enough, or not.

Very often, our idea of wasted time is two lawyers arguing a case before a judge.

We know that the radio has arrived when we see some tightwads buying them.

REAL CHILLI 15c
Lots of beans—good meat
MORELAND'S
Drug Store-Confectionery

YOUR CAR MAY FREEZE TONIGHT
Alcohol or Anti-Freeze
for your car
Have you ever had your car freeze up on you? It's expensive, to say the least. A few gurgles of dead-sure effective anti-freeze solution or of Alcohol will prevent your car from freezing. We also sell Eveready Prestone, the perfect Anti-Freeze, lasts all winter.

Rhodes Bros.
STATION NO. 1
Corner Walnut Street On Highway
Phone 80
CANNON SERVICE STATION
Corner Main and Third Streets
Phone 6
39 SERVICE STATION
Corner Walnut and Third
Phone 39

NOTICE!
We are opening our service station and garage on a strictly cash basis.
A SPECIAL RATE ON EVERYTHING
Gas 21c Gallon Ford Oil 80c Gallon
Duke Service Station
Paving completed soon. Phone 718

The Avenging Parrot

© 1929 by NEA
Service, Inc.

By Anne Austin, author of "The Black Pigeon," "Rival Wives," etc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Mrs. Emma Hogarth, said to keep a hoard of money in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, is strangled to death. Bonnie Dundee, "cub" detective, assisting Lieut. Strawn, attaches significance to the utterance "Put Penny!" made by Capt. Mrs. Hogarth's parrot.

Suspicion falls on Emil Sevier, former boarder whom Mrs. Hogarth has accused of trying to rob her and who leaves town hurriedly. Strawn quizzes Henry Dowd, new boarder, out of work, who insists he was asleep. Cora Barker, theater pianist, tells of her appointment with Bert Magnus, another boarder, who is an amateur scenario writer, and of his failure to appear. She returns to the house to hear him typing in his room at 12:10. She frantically denies being Sevier's accomplice.

Norma Paige, latest heiress under Mrs. Hogarth's will, admits calling on her late that night and of arousing her anger by confessing her engagement to Walter Styles. Styles corroborates Norma's admission she came to his room to tell him of the interview and also confesses his anger with Mrs. Hogarth.

Magnus says he typed until 12:15. Daisy Shepherd, absent at the time of the murder, says she was in the kitchen robbing the ice box. The next morning Dundee makes a speech asking the boarders to remain. All agree but Daisy.

Dundee learns from Mrs. Rhodes of the mysterious manner in which Mrs. Hogarth received and sent mail, making the postman her only confidant. When Dundee discovers a piece of skin in the parrot's cage, he recalls Cora's bandaged hand and her explanation that she burned it. In the drainpipe in Cora's room, he finds pellets of paper—a missing page from the victim's diary. Strawn calls Cora in for further questioning and tells her he knows she was in the murder room after 12. She breaks down and confesses of being in the room but swears the woman was already dead. She says she tore out the page because it referred to an alleged affair

CHAPTER XXIII

"Oh, hello, Dundee! I'm glad to see you," Bert Magnus greeted his Sunday afternoon caller with surprising cordiality.

"I'm afraid I'm interrupting you again, old man," Dundee apologized, as he took the comfortable, shabby armchair beside Magnus' desk. "But I believe I'd never get to pay you a visit if I didn't have the nerve to butt in. You're certainly an industrious chap!"

"Industrious—yes!" Magnus agreed with a bitter twist of his mouth. "And a fat lot it's got me. If I hadn't been so industrious last night, poor Cora wouldn't be in jail now. I'll never forgive myself for not meeting her after the theatre as I promised. The truth is, I forgot everything when I'm absorbed in tinkering with this fool yarn of mine. But all the success in the world wouldn't make up to me for causing that poor girl one hour's stay in a dirty jail."

"I wish Cora could have heard him say that," Dundee thought, as Magnus took off his nose glasses and polished them very hard to remove the moisture which had suddenly misted the lenses. "Aloud he remarked: 'She's charged only with being a material witness, you know, Magnus. I'm sure she can arrange bail the first thing tomorrow after court opens.'"

"I wish to heaven I had the money to go on her bail myself," Magnus worried, running his left hand distractedly through his dark-brown, oily hair. "She wouldn't have been a material witness if I had kept my promise to her. Did she actually see Sevier crawling out of Mrs. Hogarth's window? That's the rumor about the house, believe."

"I'm sorry, but I can't tell you," Dundee answered truthfully. "But let's try to forget the whole miserable business. We can't catch the murderer or do poor Cora Barker any good by mulling it over—How's the story coming on?" and he glanced toward the battered old typewriter on the open roll-top desk.

"That's not the story," Magnus told him, glancing toward the sheet of paper rolled into the machine. "I was trying to frame a letter to my year after I began my travels, and—"

"He coughed, then suddenly reached into the desk for an envelope. 'Like to see some snapshots of my folks?' This is my kid sister, Gertrude. Trudy, we call her. I can hardly believe she's got to be such a big girl. She was only 13 when I left home five and a half years ago. Here's Dad—one of the grand old men of the fruit industry out there. He's president of a Fruit Growers' Association now, and when I go home I guess I'll be content to take a job under him. Here's a picture of my older brother—known as 'Red.' My funny little red mustache looks as if it had wandered from his face to mine. I know I look queer with a red mustache with this dark hair of mine, but—my mother had read hair."

He rambled on, showing more snapshots of the pleasant Spanish type of home the "folks" in the family car, a police dog—

"I'm homesick as the devil," he acknowledged with a sigh. "But I've got a stubborn streak in me. I talked so big before I left home and I hate to go back with empty pockets and—this." He held out the crumpled right hand, with a curious gesture of contempt and self-loathing.

"Your hand was—hurt after you left home?" Dundee asked sympathetically, his eyes veering from the curled, withered fingers.

"Yes, and I've never had the nerve to write the family just how much damage I suffered in the accident. I feel like half a man, especially when I look at these pictures of Dad and Red. Splendid types, aren't they?"

It happened four years ago in Florida. I was traveling in a motor bus between Miami and Hialeah, on a real estate company's sightseeing tour. The bus collided with a heavy truck and was badly wrecked—turned over and the top caved in on us. Two of the passengers and the driver were killed outright. I thought I was lucky to get off with nothing worse than an injured hand—cut straight across the palm with a piece of the windshield glass, and he exhibited the scar.

"Rotten luck anyway," Dundee sympathized.

"Yes, the ligaments of the fingers were cut clear through, though I didn't realize it immediately. The fact is, when I came out of the ether at the hospital the nurse told me my folks were wiring frantically, and I dictated an answering wire to her—assured them I was only slightly injured. I wish now I'd had the nerve to tell them the truth later. I played the fool, too, on compensation—signed a release to the motor bus company for a paltry five hundred, when I might have net twenty or thirty thousand out of them, if I'd known how completely my hand was ruined."

"Can't you use it at all?" Dundee asked.

"Oh, some. The thumb is all right, and I use it to space with when I'm typewriting. But the fingers are useless. I learned to write with my career as a bookkeeper would have been ended forever—By the way, would you like to see the story I'm working on?" he asked with engaging eagerness.

Dundee shuddered inwardly, but his affirmative was cordial. "I'm afraid my typing is rotten," Magnus apologized ruefully. "I'm copying it over, thinking perhaps the bad typing was one reason the movie company turned it down. People are so prone to judge by appearances, you know—Here it is. What do you think of the title, 'More To Be Pitied'?"

"Fine!" Dundee applauded, but inwardly he groaned. Was he going to have to read through this bulky manuscript?

"I don't want to bore you," Magnus apologized, but the gray eyes behind the oval lenses were shyly eager, and Dundee could never bear to hurt anyone's feelings.

He made a pretense of skimming through the terrible, amateurish scenario, remarking, lest Magnus think he was turning the pages too fast: "I'm a quick reader. Ought to get me a job as a reader in a publishing house."

The story was so absurd, so hackneyed, so badly written, even as a scenario, that Dundee pitied with all his heart the man who so eagerly awaited the verdict.

As he turned the pages, he thought: "Ashamed of his insincerity, but because those shy, eager eyes were pleading with him, Dundee read along with apparent relish, the last paragraph of 'More To Be Pitied': 'And so here, with the setting sun turning the window panes of the old homestead into squares of pure gold, the long hard trail ended. Little Madge was at home again, but not alone now. No longer could the fierce temper of her grandfather terrify her, for she had Big Buck of the Lonesome Hills to protect her, to shield her against every storm of life, to be the father of the new little lives which would one day make the old homestead ring with happy laughter.'"

He laid the script down upon the desk. "That's a swell conclusion you have, Magnus. The fans will eat it up."

"Cora thought maybe I ought to have Madge and Big Buck walking hand in hand up the hill into the setting sun, with apple blossoms drifting down about them," Magnus worried. "What do you think? Seems to me like that's been done before—"

"I think your own conclusion is fine," Dundee assured him mendaciously. "Oh, sorry!" he exclaimed, as his elbow knocked a book off the edge of the desk. He stopped to retrieve it, saw that the front cover had flown back, revealing the flyleaf, on which was inscribed: "Herbert S. Magnus, Riverside, Calif., January 10, 1924."

He closed the book and returned it to the desk, noting that it was a text-book on scenario writing.

"You must have been working at this game quite a while, I see," he remarked, hoping that the pity he felt did not show in his voice.

"Off and on. I subscribed for this course in 1924, but I've just lately got down to serious work. You see, I want to make some quick money, so I can't be too ashamed to go home. And—well, maybe I'll take someone with me—Is there usually much disgrace attached to a—woman if she's held as a material witness in a murder trial, or do you know, Dundee?"

"I wouldn't worry about that," Dundee reassured him, extending a hand which the other gripped awkwardly with his left. "Cora needs you to stand by her now, and if you feel that way about her—"

"I'll stand by, no matter what they say she did," Magnus said earnestly.

"I'll stand by, no matter what they say she did," Magnus said earnestly.

between her and Sevier. Strawn arrests her as a material witness against Sevier, who is missing. A long-distance call for Daisy the night of the murder adds suspicion. All boarders agree to remain on but Daisy, who packs and leaves. Dundee pays Styles a visit and finds him washing socks and a pair of gloves.

Six Former Executives Arrested in $3,500,000 Bank Swindle

Charged with using and losing $3,500,000 of the funds of the Union Industrial Bank at Flint, Mich., in stock market speculation, six former executives of the institution shown above were arrested on charges of embezzlement. With one exception they are now said to have made nothing on the venture. They are: (1) John S. De Camp, former senior vice president; (2) Ivan P. Christensen, former assistant cashier; (3) Milton Pallock, former vice president; (4) Russell Runyon, former discount manager; (5) Mark H. Kelley, former vice president, and (6) Elton D. Graham, former vice president. It is probably the biggest bank embezzlement in the nation's history.

G. O. P. Chief and Hostess-Daughter

Claudius Houston, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, has his "official hostess" too. She is his daughter Katherine, with whom the chief of the GOP is pictured above as they arrived in Washington to take up their residence.

Elks Are Planning Memorial Service By Arizona Legion

Sunday, December 1, Order To Pay Tribute To Absent Brethren.

Annual memorial services for departed brethren—in keeping with the axiom that "an Elk is never forsaken, never forgotten"—will be held Sunday, December 1, according to announcement by Talbot Field, secretary of the local organization.

Speakers of note throughout the southwest have been invited to take part in the ceremony and have accepted and a special musical program has been arranged.

Monday night next—the Monday before Thanksgiving—there will be a social session of the lodge and all their friends are invited to attend. Ira Halliburton, W. H. Lindsay and Jack Frazier compose the committee in charge. For the memorial day services Talbot Field, C. E. Taylor and John Fitzsimmons are in charge.

The committee for Thanksgiving dinner to the needy, Jack Hyde, C. E. Taylor and J. W. Strickland, have practically completed their work and report that through the B. P. O. Elks every needy family in a radius of several miles of Hope will know the joys of Thanksgiving.

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross and Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me, I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. John S. Gibson Drug Co.

—Adv.

German Vet Aided By Arizona Legion

Former German Soldier Is Aided By One-Time Enemies.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 19.—Disabled by his service in the Imperial German army during the world war, William Winkale is today a resident of Arizona seeking to regain his health and is being aided in his fight by the Arizona department of The American Legion. Winkale was granted some compensation by the German government after the war but when he left that country the compensation was discontinued. He came to America as a butcher on one of the Lloyd steamers but was unable to follow his trade because of ill health. He struggled along in Chicago for a time but was finally advised by physicians to come to Arizona.

Arriving here some time ago Winkale obtained employment as a butcher but was soon forced to give up. He then obtained part time employment but the $1 a day he received was not enough to meet expenses. It was then that he went to American Legion headquarters and told his story to E. P. McDowell, department adjutant, and J. M. Brown, department service officer. They not only provided temporary relief but found a job for the German veteran as well. He has since been forced to give up his work altogether but the Legion has assured him that he will be cared for.

Invents Motor Plane of 21 Working Parts

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 19.—(AP)—An airplane engine of only 21 working parts—about one-tenth as many as in an ordinary engine—has been built and tested in flight by two Houston inventors.

The engine, called the "Hurricane," its backers say, approaches the ultimate in simplicity of construction. It weighs 225 pounds, develops 150 horsepower and requires an average of seven gallons of gasoline an hour. Its designers, H. F. Lyons and Victor Tace, say it can be built more cheaply than engines now in general use.

Lyons and Tace have completed the engine after eight years of work. It operates on the two-cycle principle and has neither valves, rocker arms nor carburetor. It is an eight-cylinder radial type.

Sponsors of the "Hurricane" believe its unusually light weight, few working parts, low fuel consumption and low cost of construction will make it particularly suitable for use in small, privately owned planes.

A plane equipped with the engine attained speeds of between 90 and 110 miles an hour. The engine has been sent to an Indianapolis engineering laboratory for further tests and refinement.

Local Recruiting Agent Notified of Vacancies

C. P. Taylor, recruiting officer in charge of the station here, reports a gratifying response to the various calls made for men in many different branches of the service. "Pretty evenly divided here," he says, "some of the fellows choosing infantry, artillery, cavalry, the air service or any one of the many branches of the army."

"Fort Omaha is the latest addition to my list where a few men can be used. Beautiful place up there. Never a soldier leaves it but that he wants to go back. Numbers of other places open, too, including musicians for some of the army bands. Glad to talk it over with anyone interested."

Several attended the Birthday dinner at Mr. Dot Mayton's Sunday.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Neal Olson of Waldo move into our community.

Mrs. Jess Kennedy called on Mrs. G. W. Jones Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ocie Radtiff is on the sick list this week. We hope she is well again soon.

Miss Ruby Mayton of Hope, Miss Jessie and Mr. Sid Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hunt called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones Sunday.

Mrs. Jim Jones is spending a few days with his brother, Mr. G. W. Jones.

Miss Annie Radtiff was shopping in Hope Monday.

FOR Thanksgiving

Here's an event that will give you something to be thankful for. Planned to give you an opportunity to get the things you need at prices you can afford to pay. Plan on being in Texarkana on

SATURDAY

November 23

The stores are ready for Thanksgiving with special values gathered from the four corners of the world. Remember the date—Saturday, November 23rd.

Merchants Bureau

OF TEXARKANA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

IF YOU CAN'T BUT IT AT HOME
... COME TO TEXARKANA

LA FENDRICH

A fine Cigar

Its Freshness Shows Right Thru

Every La Fendrich Cigar is insured against drying out and going stale by its own moisture-proof, sanitary, cellophane humidor. We could not improve the fine La Fendrich's matchless tropical flavor but with its new humidifier wrapping it will reach you as fresh and fine as the day it was made.

Suppose you try one...
"There's Nothing Better."

H. FENDRICH, Inc., Maker
Evansville, Ind., Established 1850

S. M. Ragland
Cigar and Tobacco
Texarkana, Texas.

10¢ and up
SEALED IN CELLOPHANE

Has that Natural Tropical Flavor

No More Gas In Stomach-Bowels

If you wish to be permanently relieved of gas in stomach and bowels, take Baelmann's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for stomach gas and all the bad effects resulting from gas pressure.

That empty, gnawing feeling at the pit of the stomach will disappear; that anxious, nervous feeling with heart palpitation will vanish, and you will again be able to take a deep breath without discomfort.

That drowsy, sleepy feeling after dinner will be replaced by a desire for entertainment. Bloating will cease. Your limbs, arms and fingers will no longer feel cold and "go to sleep" because Baelmann's Gas Tablets prevent gas from interfering with the circulation. Get the genuine, in the yellow package, at any good drug store. Price $1.

Always on hand at
WARD & SON'S

Gas produced from smoldering wood was made to drive a motor truck in a test staged at Sonora, Cal., in the presence of army officers.

The Merchandizing Mart of Chicago, containing the largest floor space in the world, used 29,000,000 brick.

A PAGE of SPORT NEWS

HOKS SLIDES

Henry L. Farrell

Some Old Familiar Faces
With the end of the football season, a number of others will be through at West Point. But that doesn't mean that the Army team is going to pieces next year. Oh no! You don't hear much of the Army players (freshmen). They seem to pop right up out of the ground in their second year, and then you begin to vaguely wonder where you've heard these names before. Quite a few playing their first year of football at the Point are not strangers to the gridiron.
Among those who will wear Army shoulder-pads next season are Elliott, the former Lehigh back, and Herb who played for Colgate. Herb tried to make the Point three years ago and failed. So he went to Colgate. Two years ago he tried again. Again he failed. So he went to Colgate. Last year he made his third assault upon the West Point examinations and made a first down.
Battles the Captious Comma
You may also see Letzler, former star at Carnegie Tech, in the Army next year, provided the young man can block out a little English interference. Letz, old boy seems to be having quite a little trouble with his commas, but he's fighting 'em hard. You may also see, in the back-

Chinese Mandate Orders Use of Western Calendar

SHANGHAI, Nov. 19.—Documents dated by China's old-style lunar calendar will not be valid after January 1, 1929, according to a mandate issued by the National Government.

It is hoped that if the government can compel business houses to follow the "foreign style calendar," the general public will do so likewise. Previous efforts at modernizing the calendar have met with scant success and Chinese New Year was duly celebrated throughout the country this year in spite of official prohibitions.

Choke's "Percentage Stunt"

Howard Choke, who did something or other in the first game of the world series between the A's and Cubs, was the principal guest speaker at the luncheon of the Four Richard Club in Philly the other day and the link pitcher told them all about that "something or other."

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Tackle Charlie Rucker's nose was broken in the first quarter of the Tulane-Georgia game. . . . Trainer Monk Simons of Tulane set it on the field and Charlie went on playing. . . . And Jack Pizane, another Tulane player, had to have nine stitches taken in his lip after the tussle with Georgia Tech, but he played the next Saturday against Georgia. . . . Knox College (Illinois) won five battles in a row and four of them were homecoming games. . . . Art Phanner of Minnesota, leading Big Ten scorer, is to be married the day before Thanksgiving to Miss Margaret Smith, a former Minneapolis telephone operator. . . . Signals

It Took Him 11 Years to Deliver This Message--But He Did It!

Private O'Neil, below.

Private James D. O'Neil of Mapleville, R. I., has located Lieutenant Colonel James G. Rivers of this city, to whom he was sent with the message while the 104th Infantry Regiment was attacking near Belleau Wood. They met at a reunion in Northampton.

The message contained the terse

"Move to the left 300 yards."

It was signed by Captain E. H. Phillips, battalion commander, who was killed a few minutes later.

O'Neil's outfit was attacking on July 20, 1918, when Captain Phillips discovered that machine gun fire had wiped out a section of his command. Hurriedly he jotted down the message and gave it to O'Neil.

Breaking into a run, O'Neil headed for his destination over the soldier-straw woodland. But in the excitement he never found his man. He was told that the lieutenant had been killed.

After the battle O'Neil was transferred to another sector.

When surviving members of the 104th Regiment held a reunion recently, O'Neil attended. He was introduced to a Lieutenant Colonel Rivers, now of the Massachusetts National Guard.

"Surely you remember Lieutenant Colonel Rivers, O'Neil," said a mutual friend. "He commanded B company in France."

O'Neil stared at the man in amazement.

On being assured, however, that Lieutenant Rivers had not been killed and that he now stood before him in the flesh, O'Neil told of the field message he still had in his possession.

"That's 11 years ago now," reflected O'Neil. "But I still will be fulfilling that last mission on which Captain Phillips sent me if I mail that message to you when I return home."

And that is how Lieutenant Colonel Rivers received this field message: "Commanding Officer, First Battalion, at Point of Woods, July 20, 1918—hour 15.55 (3.55 in the afternoon.)"

"To commanding officer of B Company. "Move to the left 300 yards." (Signed) "E. H. Phillips."

Above, Lieutenant Colonel Rivers holding the field message that was delivered to him after 11 years by Private O'Neil, below.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 19.—More than 11 years ago as a thin line of American doughboys advanced over a shell-scarred battlefield in France, a runner was dispatched with a field message—and now, he has just delivered it.

Private James D. O'Neil of Mapleville, R. I., has located Lieutenant Colonel James G. Rivers of this city, to whom he was sent with the message while the 104th Infantry Regiment was attacking near Belleau Wood. They met at a reunion in Northampton.

The message contained the terse

"Move to the left 300 yards."

It was signed by Captain E. H. Phillips, battalion commander, who was killed a few minutes later.

O'Neil's outfit was attacking on July 20, 1918, when Captain Phillips discovered that machine gun fire had wiped out a section of his command. Hurriedly he jotted down the message and gave it to O'Neil.

Breaking into a run, O'Neil headed for his destination over the soldier-straw woodland. But in the excitement he never found his man. He was told that the lieutenant had been killed.

After the battle O'Neil was transferred to another sector.

When surviving members of the 104th Regiment held a reunion recently, O'Neil attended. He was introduced to a Lieutenant Colonel Rivers, now of the Massachusetts National Guard.

"Surely you remember Lieutenant Colonel Rivers, O'Neil," said a mutual friend. "He commanded B company in France."

O'Neil stared at the man in amazement.

On being assured, however, that Lieutenant Rivers had not been killed and that he now stood before him in the flesh, O'Neil told of the field message he still had in his possession.

"That's 11 years ago now," reflected O'Neil. "But I still will be fulfilling that last mission on which Captain Phillips sent me if I mail that message to you when I return home."

And that is how Lieutenant Colonel Rivers received this field message: "Commanding Officer, First Battalion, at Point of Woods, July 20, 1918—hour 15.55 (3.55 in the afternoon.)"

"To commanding officer of B Company. "Move to the left 300 yards." (Signed) "E. H. Phillips."

Angora Goat Is Prize In Battle

Aggie Teams Strive for Honor of Keeping Animal.

MAGNOLIA, Nov. 20.—Minnesota and Michigan may battle every year for the famous "little brown jug," but the Magnolia Aggies and the Monticello A. & M. College football teams in their annual Thanksgiving Day football games will strive for the possession of a purebred Angora goat. The captain of the losing team will present the goat to the captain of the winning team immediately after the game at Magnolia.

The winners will have possession of the goat for a year and it will be mascot of all of their athletic contests. Next Thanksgiving Day it again will become a prize and so on every year during the lifetime of the goat.

While the athletic associations of the two institutions assume the joint financial responsibility for the purchase of the animal, the Monticellians will make the selection because of their victory in last season's game. The Boll Weevils will take the goat to Magnolia with eight bus loads of students.

Reindeer Meat Is Rare Delicacy Here

Local Market Will Offer Patrons Alaska Venison Next Week.

Many of the older settlers in this section recall the days when venison was a common article of diet, but mighty few of them ever tried any Alaska venison or reindeer meat.

Next week Moore Bros., local market owners, will have a supply of the meat on hand. It is shipped in and disposed of under government supervision and only a limited quantity is obtainable.

The meat is said to have a like flavor of venison though a bit coarser grained and since announcement that it would be on hand the Moore boys have been busy taking advance orders for enough to make a Thanksgiving holiday meal.

At the Theaters

MORAN STAGE CREW BOSS IN "ON WITH THE SHOW"

Lee Moran who was one of the comedy sensations of "The Racket" in his role of a hard-boiled police reporter, is playing a role in "On With the Show," the first natural color, talking, singing, dancing Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture now at the Saenger theatre, which requires no rehearsal on his part. He has the part of the boss of the stage crew at a theatre in a new Jersey town where a musical comedy is being given its try-out.

Moran has been on the legitimate stage for years, and knows his backstage life thoroughly. He has given a hand with the scenery many a time when a show was on the road and there had to be some fast hustling in order to get the scenery packed and out of the theater in time to make the train for the next jump. Alan Crosland directed "On With the Show."

Place Your Orders NOW For

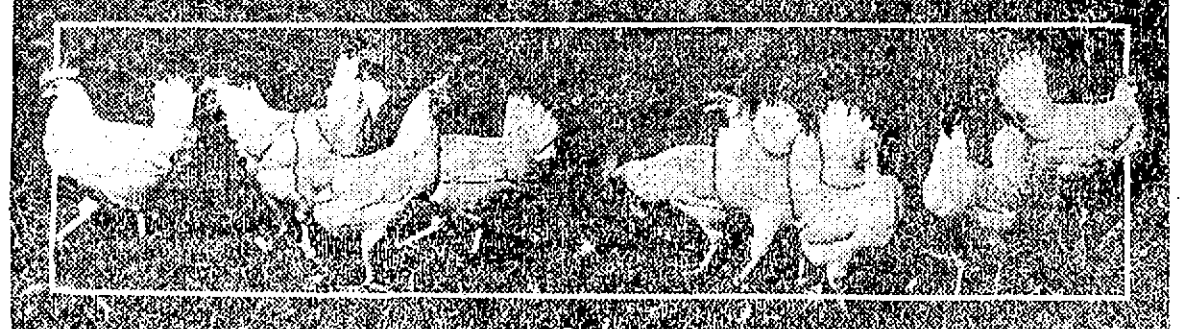

TURKEYS DRESSED POULTRY

Fed specially for Thanksgiving. These are unusually nice fowls, raised by Mr. Muldrow.

Moore & Turner

Telephone 412

These Hens Believe in Mass Production

Mass production isn't confined only to industries like the auto and radio. Even the poultry of America are interested. Take these, for instance. At the recent Storrs, Conn., egg-laying contest, the white leghorn hens shown in the upper photo produced a total of 2935 eggs in 51 weeks of the competition. That's quite a jump in the average over what had been produced in previous years. Yet the 293 average of these doesn't approach the record of the single individual at the right, another white leghorn. This one didn't stop laying until it had produced 336 eggs in the 51 weeks, which is considered a new record.

Credit Men Say Conditions Good

Express Confidence In Business Conditions of Country

EL DORADO, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Confidence in business conditions of the country was expressed in resolutions adopted today at the closing session of the annual two-day conference of the Arkansas Credit Men's Association.

The resolutions expressed the opinion that the recent drop in market prices resulted in an increase in retail business, in that the money formerly used in stock gambling would be deflated into commercial channels.

H. J. Bryant, El Dorado, was elected president of the Association, and the name of the organization changed Smith was named as the next convention city.

No, Pauline, we don't know any lady in town that is really better looking than the one you mention.

Many a circular finds the wastebasket without being read.

"Work hard" is useless advice and it isn't much as information.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

WALTER JOHNSON
THREW A BASEBALL AT THE RATE OF 123 FEET A SECOND
ACCORDING TO THE ONLY TEST EVER MADE OF PITCHER'S SPEED
THIS WOULD GIVE THE BATTER APPROXIMATELY ONE HALF SECOND TO JUDGE THE PITCH AND SWING

THE ONLY KENTUCKY DERBY WINNER EVER TO ORE A KENTUCKY DERBY WINNER
HALLA
THE SON WAS ALAN-A-DALE

THE SHOES OF PRIMO CARNERA GIANT EUROPEAN FIGHTER COMPARED TO GENE TUNNEY'S SIZE 11 FOOTWEAR
DRAWN TO SCALE
THE BIG BOY HAS TO SUELL OUT $3.70 TO HAVE THE GIANTIC DOES HALF-SOLED

LESS NERVOUS, SLEPT BETTER

Texas Lady Was Weak and Restless Until She Took Cardui.

Italy, Texas.—Mrs. Rhoda Holley, of this place, says: "I was very much run-down. At night I suffered from sleeplessness, and I was restless and nervous. My joints ached."

"I was very weak and at times could scarcely leave my bed. My work was a drag. Some days I could do nothing at all."

"My mother asked me why I did not try Cardui, which she had read about. I thought that was a good idea, and began taking it at once. I soon began to feel better."

"The improvement in my health was noticeable after I had been taking Cardui about a week. I was less nervous and I slept better. I was so grateful that I continued it for some time. I took several bottles and think it is a fine medicine. I gained after taking it, both in health and strength."

Thousands of women have written to tell how they have obtained relief through the use of Cardui.

Having helped so many others, Cardui should help you, too.

Take Cardui's Black-Draught for Constipation, Indigestion, Bilelessness. 25 cents a package.

Same Price

FOR OVER 38 YEARS

25 ounces for 25¢

KC BAKING POWDER

Guaranteed Pure

Use KC for fine texture and large volume in your bakings

Millions of pounds used by our Government

BOX SUPPER AT OAK GROVE

There will be a box supper at Oak Grove Friday night. Everybody is invited to attend. The funds will be for the benefit of the school as needed.

Miss Hazel Watkins spent the week end with her parents, this week.

Bill Fulmers spent the night Monday with Rufus Polk and family.

Guy Watkins from Oakland spent Monday night with his cousin, Lester Watkins of this place.

There was no Sunday School last Sunday on account of bad weather, but everyone is expected to be there next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ewing and son, Grover, have returned from a few days visit with relatives in Ada, Okla.

Mrs. Madge Hollands of Mineral Springs, spent the week end with her husband, Author Hollands at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer McKinney Miss Clara Dillard and Clyde Rosenbaum attended the show in Hope, Sunday afternoon.

Floyd Bailey, of McNab, visited friends here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wetherford and daughter, Bobby Joe, were recent shoppers to Hope.

Clyde Rosenbaum spent Monday in Hope on business, being vaccinated and taking malarial shots before returning to his position in South America.

Marshall Sanders, of Ada, Okla., will arrive Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving here with friends.

Miss Faye Adkinson who is teaching in Schaol visited her sister here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Rosenbaum were guests of their son, Z. B. Rosenbaum in Hope.

Armor Chamberlain visited friends in Mineral Springs recently.

cool weather further proves our claims for "STANDARD" GASOLINE

In warm weather, the difference in the quality of gasolines made by different manufacturers is less noticeable than in cold weather. Now that the days are cooler, the superior quality of Improved "Standard" Gasoline is more noticeable than ever.

"The lower initial boiling point" makes motors start easier—no need for much use of the choke, except on very cold mornings.

"The more uniform distillation chain" means a longer and stronger push—hence quicker pick-up, more power and speed, dependable high mileage, smoother operation with less vibration and fuel knocks.

"The lower end-point" means cleaner burning, with less carbon and less dilution of the motor oil.

Improve the performance of your motor at no additional cost. Stop at the nearest "Standard" Dealer and have your tank filled with Improved "Standard" Gasoline.

Remember that many motors need a lighter oil for winter driving than they do for summer. Consult the "Standard" Chart of Recommendations for the correct grade of "Standard" Motor Oil for your car at this season.

BETTER STICK TO "STANDARD"

"STANDARD" IMPROVED

MOTOR OIL & GASOLINE

944

WE SELL "STANDARD" PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

J. . Henry & Son

Open Evenings Till Nine Hope, Arkansas

Hope Auto Company

Authorized Ford Dealers Hope, Arkansas

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS
City Election February 1930
For Mayor
CLAUDE STUART
Buy It! Rent It! Sell It! Find It!
WITL HOPE STAR
WANT ADS
Count five words to the line. Rates 10c per line for one insertion, minimum 30c. 7c per line for three insertions, minimum 50c. 6c per line for six or more insertions. 5c per line for 4 insertions.
PHONE 768

Ex-Conductor Is Detroit's Mayor

Charles Bowles, 45, an ex-street car conductor who saved enough money to go to college and study law, has been elected mayor of Detroit. He defeated John W. Smith in a close race.

MOM'N POP
OH BOY, MINCE PIE! AND WHAT I'LL DO TO THAT!!
WELL, WHEN I WAS MAKING IT THIS MORNING I JUST THOUGHT YOU'D LIKE A NICE HOT PIECE
JIM SAID IT WAS THE BEST I EVER MADE AND I HAPPENED TO REMEMBER HOW CRAZY YOU WERE ABOUT CHOCOLATE CAKE
UMIUM! LYDIE, IT MELTS IN MY MOUTH

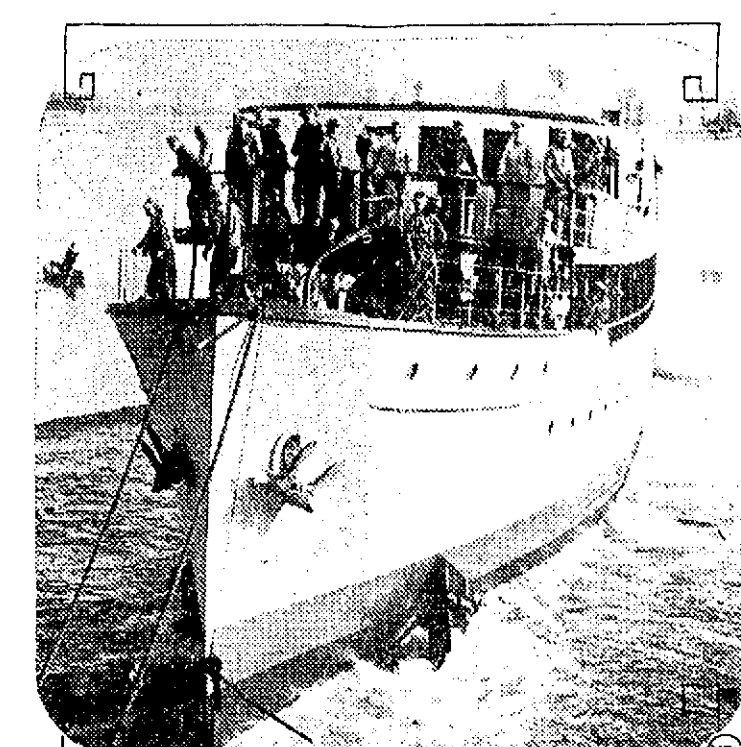

Well Fed

I'M GOING TO STAY RIGHT HERE AND WATCH YOU. IF THERE'S ANYTHING I LIKE IT'S TO SEE SOMEONE ENJOY MY CUSTARDS
I DON'T KNOW WHAT'S COME OVER ME, DOC, BUT I GOT A TERRIBLE PAIN IN THE STOMACH
UM! I CAN'T UNDERSTAND THIS. YOU LOOK A LITTLE PALE. I'D BETTER KEEP YOU HERE UNDER OBSERVATION A FEW DAYS LONGER

Services Offered
Mrs. E. Harrie has reopened her dressmaking parlors at 315 East Third specializing in dressmaking, tailoring and alterations.
31-31-pd.
FOR RENT
FOR RENT—Apartment with private bath. Mrs. R. V. Herndon. Phone 562. 32-4t-c.
FOR RENT—One of the best furnished four room apartments in town. Also one five-room house. Apply J. A. Sullivan. Phone 147. 26-6t-pd.
FOR RENT—Farm of 38 1-2 acres. Good land, good buildings, good water. Located near Melrose, one and one-half miles west of Hope. See Talbot Feild. 33-3c
FOR RENT—Furnished apartment at 509 South Hervey. Phone 876. 28-6t-pd.
FOR RENT: Apartment. Phone 291 Mrs. Judson. 18-tf.
FOR RENT—Unfurnished apartment, four rooms and bath. 211 East Second. Mrs. B. Webber. 33-6t-c.
Stoves repaired. Phone 905. W. J. Harris. 15-30-p.
FOR RENT—Well located farms for rent. Good farm land, well improved. Good pasture. See Waddle Bros. 28-12t

Howard Valuation Greatly Increased
Assessor's Report Shows Gain of Many Thousand In Valuation.
NASHVILLE, Nov. 19.—County Assessor Selmon W. Chambers has announced the assessments in Howard county for this year, and comparisons are given with the assessments of last year, showing an increase in assessed valuation of $14,567, in the county. These figures are on the assessments only, and do not include any increases made by the County Assessing board, nor any assessments made by the State Tax Commission. Increases made by the County Tax Board may swell the increase considerably, it is believed.
Last year the real estate in the county was assessed at $2,427,287 and this year at $2,439,047; personal property last year was assessed at $1,394,553 and this year at $1,397,760. The total assessment for last year was $3,821,840, while the total assessments for this year are $3,836,807, an increase of $14,967.
Mr. Chambers is now making his preparations for his rounds of assessing next year, when the assessing will be done at the same time the collection of taxes is made by the sheriff. The assessor will make the rounds of the county with the collector, and at the same time taxes are being paid assessments for the following year's taxes will be made, thus relieving the taxpayer, of all the work in one day.

PERSONAL MENTION
J. P. Brundidge, real estate owner and capitalist of this city, left for Little Rock last night to attend the Arkansas Realty convention which is under way this week.
"Speedy" Hutson of Nashville, attended the matinee at the Saenger Tuesday afternoon.
Mrs. F. Off Deatherage, of Hugo, Okla. attended the Saenger matinee yesterday.
T. H. Butler of Rocky Mount neighborhood, was a business visitor in Hope today.
W. J. Hartsfield of De Ann was in town Tuesday.
George Samuels, De Ann merchant, was in town on business this morning.
W. H. Samuels, of Emmett, Route 1, was a visitor in Hope Tuesday.
A. J. Fuller, of Bodeaw, was in Hope on business this morning.
H. T. Lauderback, a dairy farmer on Route 4, was in town on business this morning.
Mrs. Gunn and little daughter and Mrs. B. Sprung and daughter are visiting in Nashville this afternoon.
FOR RENT—Room adjoining bath; private entrance. Phone 838J 32-3tp.

Edsel Ford's New Yacht Launched

The red, white and blue triangles of Edsel B. Ford, of Detroit, will fly over this trim yacht as soon as she is put into commission. Here you see the launching at Boston of Ford's luxurious power cruiser Sialia, which is 132 feet in length. Powered by two Desel engines, it has a cruising radius of 2300 miles and a speed of fourteen knots.

WANTED-- 1000 New Subscribers
The more subscribers in the HOPE TRADE TERRITORY this newspaper is able to secure, the greater results we can deliver to advertisers, and the more advertising they will place with us. That's why we offer two newspapers for country people for less than the price of one.
-for about 1¢ a day
Mail subscribers can now subscribe to the Hope Star for less than one cent a day, and get the Arkansas Farmer for one year, both for only $2.95 per year. This offer may be with drawn soon. And it only applies to rural readers in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and LaFayette counties. Remember, Mail subscribers only.

WANTED
WANTED. Roomers and Boarders. Mrs. Judson 18-tf.
WANTED TO RENT—Office room to collect taxes and auto license, beginning December 20, 1929. Phone 75 or 118. Rorsey McRae, Sheriff. 32-3t-c.
FOR SALE
We have on hand the best grade of Tulip bulbs and Pansy Plants. 7-11 36p. Floral Hill Farm. 33-3tp.
FOR SALE—Two pair mules. Years old, weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 lbs each in good condition. Apply J. G. Garrett, Hope route 2. 31-6tp.
FOR SALE—200 bushels good ear corn. Apply at once to J. N. Garrett, Emmett Ark., route 3. 30-3tp.
FOR SALE OR TRADE—1928 model Buick sedan, good condition, good rubber. See Jewell Moore. 28-3t-c
FOR SALE—The most gorgeous and beautiful Crysanthemums in white, pink and yellow. Call Lillie Middlebrook. 13-tf-c
FOR SALE—Old papers. Hope Star. 25-2t.
FOR SALE OR TRADE—Ford truck, good condition. Tom Gloghom, Hope Route 3. 5-32-2tp.
FOR SALE—Police Pups. Apply 1362 South Elm street. Phone 540 32-6t-p.
LOST
LOST—Bay mare 6 years old weight 800 pounds, left Sutton Saturday. Reward for return to R. D. Smith Supt. Ark 32-3t-p.
LOST—At Elks dance on Thursday night, November 14, rhinestone Finder return to Mrs. H. Lindsey or phone 761. 22-2t-c
Lost—Blue setter pup, one year old. Disappeared yesterday. Phone any information to 722 w or 356. M. G. Monroe. 33-3tp.

Begin Search for
(Continued from page one)
them. This will leave three tracts, fully platted and blueprinted, which the board of surveyors will submit to the construction commission.
When the three tracts are chosen by the surveyors, the entire construction commission will then begin its inspection and will visit and inspect minutely all three places. Final selection of the site then will be made by the entire personnel of the state construction commission.
Time is Required
To select the site under the plan adopted will require several weeks and by that time the construction commission expects to be ready to proceed with work on the new hospital. Architects have been employed to submit plans, the bond sale was scheduled for Tuesday and the supreme court Monday upheld the act of 1923 which authorizes the construction commission to finance construction with a bond sale.
Promises of a new hospital for the nervous was made by most of the candidates for governor last year. The present institution, situated within the Little Rock city limits, was built several years ago. It is not of fireproof construction, several of the buildings are in dangerous condition and it is greatly overcrowded, there being approximately 2800 patients while there are facilities for but 1700.

Senate Takes Recess Until Regular Session
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Riding rough-shod over the "young guard," of the republican party, a weary senate voted today to adjourn the special session Friday night for a week's recess before the convening of the regular session December first.
Round Steak Moves Up As Sirloin Comes Down
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Government index figures indicate that the public is paying more today than a year ago for round steak, rib roast, chuck roast, plate beef, ham, hens, milk, eggs and tea.
The index lists the following commodities as cheaper than a year ago: Lard, bread flour, corn meal, rice, potatoes, sugar, coffee, sirloin steak, pork chops, bacon, butter and cheese.
Teacher Drops Dead While Instructing Class
FORT SMITH, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Miss Alice Bernice Bonds, about 28, dropped dead while teaching her class in Rogers grade school here today. Death was attributed to heart failure.
HILA MORGAN PLAYERS PLEASE GOOD ATTENDANCE
The Hila Morgan Players, moving at their tent theatre here this week, are presenting "The Sheik" at their performance tonight. "This is one of the best plays in the repertoire, according to the members of the company, and costumes are said to be gorgeous. This show has brought an interesting collection of vaudeville numbers to Hope, which are presented between the acts of their play each evening. Tonight they are featuring a native Indian dance, by Miss Hila Mabel Axtrell, and Chief DeMille. The chief is a member of the Shawnee Indian tribe, whose Indian name is Chief Blue Jacket.
Tuesday night the tent players presented an amusing comedy "Tobe of the Movies," along with some snappy vaudeville numbers.

Mind Better But Health Worse On Diet of Raw Vegetables Only
CHARLOTTENBERG, Germany, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A diet exclusively of raw vegetables has failed to sustain health in a remarkable series of experiments, just disclosed by Dr. B. Susskind of this city.
Dr. Susskind concludes that undernourishment often may be beneficial in disposing of useless substances in the body, but that a healthy adult thrives best on a balanced diet of cooked non-vegetable foods with raw foods added in the form of fresh fruits, vegetables and salads.
The remarkable feature is that Dr. Susskind spent eight years intermittently trying the diets, with long rests between experiments, until he actually thought he felt and worked better on raw than on cooked foods. He now tells why he believes this seeming health was not a real improvement.
His first attempt was in 1920, the second in 1921 and the third in 1924. All failures at producing better health. But in 1928 Dr. Susskind began to obtain somewhat different and for the moment at least, more encouraging results.
In that experiment he subsisted on raw vegetables for four weeks. He says that after the first week all signs of weakness, hunger and thirst disappeared. His appetite decreased but he was physically and mentally more active than formerly. On the thirteenth day he wrote steadily for three hours without pause, when previously two hours had been his limit.
But he lost 11 pounds in four weeks. He says that if he had not weighed himself he would have imagined that he was in the best of health. He was surprised to find the loss in weight. His heart action added a warning to the weight loss, for from the fourth day onward, his pulse rate was lower than normal.
Throughout all the experiments he noted a persistent loss of appetite. Several changes in diet failed to restore his liking for food, even when, in the 1921 experiment, he added bread and cheese to the vegetable fare.
Eating more to counterbalance the dwindling weight failed. Once he increased his daily ration to 3,500 calories against his normal consumption of 2,100 calories, and in another test he went up to 2,700 calories, but without stopping the loss of weight.
In the 1921 experiment he noted a great desire for sleep, five hours a day being plenty. His first experiment was stopped because of growing disgust with the diet, and the next two stopped like the final test, because of dropping weight.

BARGAIN RATE
If you are already a subscriber, you can take advantage of this offer, and have your subscription advanced one year from the time it will expire, by sending in the coupon now, along with your check. Where else can you get more reading matter, that is of vital interest to you, for the money? What other newspapers are more interested and concerned in you than the Hope Star, and the Arkansas Farmer.
All the local news—all the worthwhile and entertaining features—comic strips, a good serial story, timely editorial comment—all the important state and national news. Subscribe to the Hope Star!
Hope Star and Arkansas Farmer
The regular price of the Hope Star (by mail) is $3.00 per year. The regular price of the Arkansas Farmer is 50c per year. These two newspapers should be on every library in this section. Both 1 year for only—
$2.95
Weekly Star and Arkansas Farmer
The regular price of the Hope Weekly Star is $1.50 per year. Mailed every Thursday morning, it is a weekly review of the local news of the Hope Star. Hope Weekly Star, and Arkansas Farmer, both for one year—
$1.00
Mail This Coupon Today
HOPE STAR, Hope, Arkansas
Gentlemen:—
Please find enclosed $ (check or money order) for which please send both the ARKANSAS FARMER for one year, and also (check which)
☐ THE DAILY HOPE STAR ☐ THE WEEKLY HOPE STAR
NAME _____
R. F. D. AND BOX _____
TOWN _____ STATE _____
New Subscriber ☐ or Renewal Subscriber ☐

Little Rock Post
(Continued from page one)
kansas.
"The victory is a splendid reward for the faithful work of Legion leaders throughout the state," Claude A. Brown, state membership chairman, said. "For the first time in the history of the department, we had universal interest and enthusiasm due to the election of O. L. Bodenhamer of El Dorado as national commander. There, too, posts elected their officers early and plunged into membership activities.
"Although we have the largest early membership in the department's history, and bid well to reach the 10,000 mark in 1930, we must continue our efforts and reach our objective soon, so that the posts can devote more effort to Junior baseball, Boy Scouts, child welfare, service, community activities, and other efforts that have been dwarfed by continued membership drives. We hope to make this year the greatest in Arkansas Legion history."
The Little Rock post is one of 15 out of approximately 11,000 posts, which have more than 1,000 members. Louisville is second. The capital post now has 1,150 members, compared with a total of 1,022 last year.

Oil and Gas Journal Editor Stops Here
D. H. Bancroft, of Shreveport, Louisiana-Arkansas editor of the Oil & Gas Journal, stopped over in Hope yesterday and visited the publisher of The Star. Mr. Bancroft, who was returning from his vacation, spent two weeks inspecting the work of oil geologists in Northwest Arkansas and throughout the Arkansas river valley. "There is a general feeling that much of this territory will develop commercial gas fields, although I doubt whether they get oil in paying quantities," he said. "With the prevailing conditions in the oil market, gas is the more profitable of the two anyway."
Moses On Coals for "Wild Jackass" Term
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A meeting of the senatorial republican campaign committee has been called for tonight by Chairman Moses. There is a direct attack on Moses' leadership by the younger group in the senate since he referred to western republican independents as "sons of the wild jackass."
Bank Bandit's Victim Succumbs To Wounds
EASTLAND Texas, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Deputy sheriff Tom Jones, wounded by Marshal Ratliff, bank bandit who attempted an escape from Eastland jail and was lynched last night following the shooting of the officer, died in a hospital here today.

WARNING ORDER
IN HEMPSTEAD CHANCERY COURT
David Williams & E. L. Carter, Trustees, vs. William F. Griffith, et al., Defendants.
The defendants, William F. Griffith, Martha Griffith, C. M. Welton, James M. Fargotson, B. H. Jester, and Katy A. Jester, White Oil Corporation, a Delaware Corporation, et al., Hanson, Trustee, R. H. Hanson, Hester, H. Hanson, his wife, Alta M. Ford, J. E. Murray, and Mrs. J. E. Murray, his wife, W. D. Stewart and Mrs. W. D. Stewart, his wife, S. C. Fullilove, Trustee, Amanda S. Fullilove, his wife, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, are warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the plaintiffs herein. WITNESS my hand and seal of said court this 12th day of November, 1929.
WILLIE HARRIS, Circuit Clerk.
By Gray Carrigan D. C. Nov. 18-25-Dec. 2-9.

A Solid Carload of the Latest in FARM IMPLEMENTS —just arrived.
Farmall and any Farm Equipment
We are now in a position to make delivery, as long as they last, of Talk it over with us, now. Do not wait until we are sold out.
SOUTH ARKANSAS IMPLEMENT CO.
Phone 798 Hope, Arkansas

Hope Star Weekly Star